George C. "Shine" Franklin holds a plaque and pin awarding him membership in the "Mack Million Mile Club" as driver of the petroleum fuel hauling rig (above) one of a series that has rolled a million miles in the past twenty years for Jamerson Bros. Trucking Co.

Driver Joins Million Mile Club

How far is a million miles? Forty times around the globe, says the staff at Jamerson Brothers Trucking Co. and George C. ("Shine") Franklin has clocked this many and more hauling petroleum fuel. for the Jamersons during the past twenty years.

"Shine" has been given the Mack Million Mile Award. He and his employers were taking a look backward on Friday to 1950 when the company hauled about four loads of petroleum fuel a month. Now that amount has doubled, tripled and quadrupled, as 50 loads a month are hauled by Jamerson in servicing Appomattox Oil Co., Parkway Fuel and Appomattox Hardware (American) fuel suppliers.

An average motorists drives about 12, miles a year. To be a million miler, the driver would have to up that by four times or more to reach the Franklin record.

During his long stay with the firm he has had no serious traffic accident. Recognition of his service includes a Mack "bulldog" pin and a plaque which states: "Mack Million Mile Award for George C. Franklin, who by his ability as a professional truck driver, his road courtesy, attention to safety and his loyalty to Mack Trucks, has been awarded a membership in the Mack Million Mile Club."

The Franklins have a nearly new brick home in the county. Mrs. Franklin is employed with the Burke Insurance Agency, and daughter Paula, 13, is in the 8th grade at Appomattox High School.

Does a "million miler" ever drive just for pleasure? "Absolutely," says Shine, "we take family vacation trips every year."

Twenty men of Appomattox undertook to form a Lions Club in Appomattox in 1939, and together with wives and other guests getting ready to celebrate 30 years of club membership and community service.

First president of the Lions, chartered on August 29, 1939, was John C. Caldwell. Calvin H. Robinson was the first secretary.

Five years ago an Anniversary Ball, Centennial dresses worn by the ladies, and address by William J. Purdy, Past International Director, highlighted the 25th anniversary of Lionism here.

Historical highlights published at that time is an anniversary booklet reveal that major projects of the club in its first years included sale of War Bonds. In 1943, under the leadership of the late Joel W. Flood $106,150 worth of bonds were sold.

School improvement has been a continuing interest of the club. A scoreboard and public address system for the Appomattox High School gymnasium and public address system for the school auditorium were given. In 1959 Lions cooperated with Jaycees in a $9,000 program of lighting and building stands for the AHS athletic field.

Eye glasses for worthy applicants and donations to Old Dominion Eye Bank and Research, Inc. has accounted for more than $4,000 from the treasury.
